DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Esaka et al.

(5,841,097). Esaka et al. teach applying a laser beam onto a seam of a first element and a second element, where the laser beam is of sufficient energy to melt a portion of the material of the first and second element onto which it is applied (Figure 9, Items 14a and 14b); oscillating the laser beam such that a laser spot of the laser beam scans back and forth across the seam (Figure 11, Item 24); wherein oscillating the laser beam creates an effective laser spot size larger than the laser spot size (Figure 11, Item 24); moving the oscillating laser beam along the seam (Figure 11, directional arrow and Figure 10, Item W); wherein the first element and second element are welded as the oscillating beam moves along the seam (Column 1, lines 15-20).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
